PUROK[®]

Manufactured to meet the latest standards
Strong, flexible, temperature resistant, durable bonds that are able to withstand extreme conditions throughout the world.

structural two part fire retardant component adhesives

MMA Comparison with PUROK[®] VX Range

Purok VM series are blended with flexible adhesive technologies to give an elastic medium strength bond or seal.

Used in vehicle manufacture where a tenacious flexible bond is required to allow movement and absorption of stress and strain.

Purok VX series are based on hybrid methacrylate technology and offer excellent adhesion, flexibility, high temperature and chemical resistance with fast cure times suiting many applications in product assembly.

Purok VO series are based on polyurethane-oxirane technology and offer high levels of adhesion, minimal exotherm and no shrinkage on cure. Widely used for bonding SMC and RTM parts in automotive and transportation applications.

Special Piping Materials

Brochure Design

Special Piping Materials

Established in 1989 with our main office & warehouse located in Manchester, Special Piping Materials are a leading global stockholder and supplier of Pipes, Flanges and Fittings in Super Duplex (UNS S32760 and UNS S32768), Duplex (UNS S31803, 6% Moly UNS S31054), Stainless Steel and other hard to source materials such as Nickel Alloy, 904L, 316, 317L and 321.

As well as our extensive stocks of Pipes, Flanges and Fittings, SPM also keep a wide range of semi finished products including Super Duplex Plate, which together with our relationships with approved manufacturers allows flexibility to have items manufactured on an urgent basis.

In June 2004 we opened our office and warehouse in Singapore to service Asia and a year later we opened an off-ice and warehouse in Perth, Western Australia to service the Australian region. Continued expansion has seen SPM open offices and warehouses in Aberdeen, Scotland, Houston, Texas, USA and Dubai UAE. In all locations we will continue to invest in stocks of Super Duplex, Duplex, 6% Moly, Nickel Alloy and special grades of Stainless Steel.

Health & Safety

We provide and maintain a comprehensive health and safety policy for all employees and visitors in accordance with The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.

Quality

SPM are accredited with British Standards Institute as a company that operates a quality system which complies with the requirements of BS EN ISO 9001:2008. SPM is also a member of First Party Assessment Oil and Gas and the LMS (ASME) schemes which both monitor supply performance against industry standards. Our head office is also aiming to have its Environmental Certification ISO 14001 by September 2010.
